Matt MacEachern at the top of Mt. Logan, Canada's highest peak

Matt MacEachern's vision:

Inspire and support people to pursue their dreams at work, at home, and on the move.

Matt MacEachern is a learning and performance consultant with over 20 years in the corporate arena, partnering with leaders to help them lead themselves and others to be their best.

Matt has a passionate belief in the inherent leadership ability in each one of us. He strives to inspire that in everyone he meets.

Matt also has a passion for adventure and a natural gift for linking the metaphor of our recreational adventures to the challenges we face in our business and personal lives.

Matt is often called upon to deliver entertaining, thought-provoking keynotes. The topics include inspiring change, teamwork, achieving goals, appreciation, and the focus of his Master's work, positive coaching and performance feedback.

Matt is a certified facilitator in a variety of areas such as True Colors, Six Thinking Hats, Open Space Technology, and Performance Leadership. He believes that shared values in an organization can help guide us toward the vision we aspire to.

Matt's forte is creating experiential workshops that weave key learning in and around the "normal agendas" of classic business meetings, culminating in surprisingly productive meetings, complete with action plans. His clients have included Coca Cola, Starbucks Coffee, Royal Bank of Canada, Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, Telus, Venture Group, GTE, and ICBC.

A very proud father and husband, Matt lives in Vancouver, BC, and continues to pursue his passions: inspiring people and seeking adventure.

Matt MacEachern will be leading an interactive session for ISPI Vancouver on Tuesday, Feb. 18, 2003, 5:30–8 p.m. (light dinner provided at 5:30), at the Plaza 500 Hotel, 500 West 12th Ave., Vancouver (southeast corner of 12th and Cambie, with underground parking from 12th).

Members free. Guests $20 cash or cheque. To register, call the ISPI Vancouver Voice Mail, 604-878-3484, OR email locus.learning@telus.net with the subject line "ISPI Feb 18" by Friday, Feb. 14, 2003.
